

Continue activities following the story – The People of Chełm and the Moon

By: Shlomo Abbas
illustrations: Omer Hoffmann
הוצאה: עגור
Age Group: KINDERGARTEN

פְּלִי ✨

Family Activities

- You may enjoy looking at the illustrations and looking for other funny things about Chełm. Have you noticed the square wheeled bicycle? Try to guess why the lady sitting on the bench is hiding under an umbrella.
- Did you find this story funny? Do you know other stories about the people of Chełm, or tales about Hershele and Juha? You may want to read them together, or simply tell each other jokes.
- Perhaps you'd like to look out the window and search for the moon. What does it look like? You could draw the moon you saw, and hang the drawing by the window. Then return to the window and look at the moon again several nights later – does the moon look any different?
- You may enjoy taking a nocturnal walk together. Does your street look any different at night? What do you see? What sounds do you hear? You could look up at the sky, search for the moon, be reminded of the people of Chełm, and laugh...

Who likes making crescent-shaped biscuits?

Ingredients:

100g of caster sugar

150g of butter

1 tsp of vanilla essence

1 tsp of lemon zest

2 cups of flour

1 flat tsp of baking powder

4 tbs of ground almonds

Castor sugar for sprinkling on baked biscuits

Instructions:

Mix the castor sugar and butter together in a mixer.

Add the vanilla essence and lemon zest.

Add the flour, baking powder and ground almonds, mixing it all together to form dough.

Take a piece of dough, roll it into a long, thin roll, and cut small crescent-shaped “tubes” out of it.

Place the little crescents on a cooking tray covered with parchment paper, and repeat until all the dough is used.

Bake in a preheated oven set to 175 degrees Celsius for 15 minutes, or until the edges of the crescents begin to turn golden.

Cool and sprinkle castor sugar.

Bon Appétit!

Enjoy reading and discussing the story together!

---

www.pjisrael.org More activities on the Pajama Library website